TALK BY BROWNProhibition Commissioner Says
Law Enforcement Lies
With Public.

MANNINGTON, Oct. 21.—State Prohibition Commissioner W. G. Brown made one of the outstanding addresses at the state convention of the W. C. T. U. at Buckhannon last week, and his address was reported and commented on at the regular meeting of the delegates here yesterday when the delegates reported from the convention.

Mr. Brown told of the many difficulties in the way of enforcing the law, chief of which he claimed is the inadequacy of funds at his command. He is compelled, he said, to depend entirely upon local officers, constables, justices, sheriffs, and prosecuting attorneys in the counties in which he works.

"If the people will elect the right sort of officers," he declared, "the right sort of justices, sheriffs, and prosecuting attorneys in each county, the first and most important step toward proper law-enforcement will have been made."

Back of all law, it was pointed out, and back of all law enforcement officers must be the people, approving that law and upholding the officers of the law.

The people in any neighborhood, he said, if aware that law is being violated, should report to the proper officers at once. The people should give moral support to these officers in the processes of execution, he added.

He called attention to instances where at the trial of persons for law violations, the court rooms were filled with sympathizers of law breakers, to influence directly and indirectly the prosecution. He suggested that law abiding citizens be as diligent in upholding the enforcement of law.

Mr. Brown deprecated the spirit of levity with which laws, and especially prohibition laws, are treated by the public, calling attention to the prevalence of jests at the expense of the sanctity and dignity of the laws, thus belittling prohibition.

"Whenever we tell jokes or laugh at the jokes of others against the fundamental laws of our land," he stated, "we are in a sense disloyal to our country and giving aid and comfort to the enemies of good government."

Commissioner Brown expressed the opinion that the existing laxness in morals relating to prohibition is largely due to a lack of teaching in late years to show the injurious effects of alcohol.

He urged that the women of the W. C. T. U. work with a view toward having this teaching made an integral part of the school curriculum.

WESLEYAN MAY
LOSE ASPINALLStudents File Petition Asking
Board to Refuse to Accept
His Resignation.

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Oct. 21.—Since the fact that Prof. Richard Aspinall has tendered his resignation to the executive committee of the board of trustees of West Virginia Wesleyan College has become known, students of West Virginia Wesleyan College have been very active in their efforts to keep him here.

Yesterday the following petition was circulated through the entire student body, every student signing it with the exception of a few, most of whom were out of town.

"To the executive committee of the board of trustees of West Virginia Wesleyan College:

"We the undersigned students of West Virginia Wesleyan College, in view of the fact that Prof. Richard Aspinall has tendered his resignation as the head of the department of Bible and philosophy this school.

"And, in consideration of his efficient service and loyalty to the school:

"And, believing his influence to be the greatest power for good in this school:

"And believing his withdrawal from the school will be detrimental to the best interests of Wesleyan College.

"Do hereby petition the executive committee of the board of trustees not to accept his resignation."

Professor Aspinall has been with Wesleyan eight years, and has been one of the main factors in making Wesleyan what she is today.

The student body realizes this and they are determined to do everything within their power to keep him here.

The sentiment among Wesleyan students is, "We want Aspinall" and that this sentiment is very strong can be seen from the fact that over three hundred students signed this petition, with still others yet to be seen.

Among these signers were the leaders of the student body, including every ministerial student here.
